Bullet Found in Head of Girl Slaying Victim

RYAN DID GIVE TO WILSON
FUNDUnderwood Has Fact Expunged
From Record When It Is Declared at White House.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Oscar W. Underwood's charge that Thomas Fortune Ryan contributed $10,000 to the campaign fund of President Wilson when he ran for Governor of New Jersey made on the floor of the House does not appear in The Congressional Record to-day. It was expunged by the Democratic floor leader after he had been told by the White House that Mr. Wilson had received nothing from Mr. Ryan.

It can be said on the highest authority, however, that Mr. Underwood made the statement on information that came to him directly from persons close to the multi-millionaire Wall Street man that Mr. Underwood was justified in placing the greatest faith in his reliability and made the statement in his reply to the charges of Representative Hobson, of Alabama, with a full belief in its truth.

Harvey Bought Gift.
Notwithstanding the denial issued from the White House, The Georgian learned from one of its most reliable informants in bringing about the nomination of Woodrow Wilson for Governor of New Jersey that Thomas Fortune Ryan did contribute $10,000 to the Wilson gubernatorial campaign.

Colonel George Harvey, according to this newspaper's informant, sought and obtained the contribution. From the same source it was learned that James Smith, Jr., formerly United States Senator from New Jersey, who at the time of Dr. Wilson's nomination for Governor was the undisputed "boss" of the Democratic party in his State, "contributed" in his State.

Tariff Clause That
Aids U. S. Shipping
To Stand—Underwood

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—"The 5 per cent clause benefiting American shipping will stand in the new tariff act even at the risk of trade wars and other commercial complications," answered Representative Underwood after a visit to the White House to-day.

The fact that a number of trade treaties probably will be abrogated by the clause do not worry Mr. Underwood.

He thinks that the United States is well able to care for itself, should European nations attempt commercial reprisals.

Two Officers Shot;
Crazed Negro Slain

WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 15.—As the result of a street fight in the main business section of Laurinburg, two officers were wounded, one probably fatally, and a supposedly crazed negro, who was cause of the combat, is dead.

Detective Finkbeiner, of the Sea-board Air Line, who followed the negro from Hamlet, where he was wanted, grappled with him after he was shot through the stomach, and Officer Brown, of Laurinburg, picking his chance, fired at the negro at every turn. It took five pistol bullets to stop the negro's head to down him. Officer Brown is not seriously wounded, though several bullets took effect.

Editor to Face Trial
In Illegal Mail Case

WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 15.—W. O. Saunders, editor of The Down Home and Independent of Elizabeth City, who has been several times tried in State courts for libel and acquitted each time, will go on trial this week in Federal Court at Elizabeth City on a charge of circulating through United States mails obscene literature.

A request for a continuance of this case and also one in which Governor Hanes had been summoned as a witness, was denied by the court.

No Verdict in Case
Charging Perjury

CHATTANOOGA, Oct. 15.—The jury in the case of Dr. H. O. Null, county physician charged with perjury in connection with the probe of the workhouse, this afternoon reported a mistrial.

Null was charged with swearing that there was no evidence of violence upon the body of a convict which was examined after it had been asserted that he died from the effects of a beating.

MYSTERY IN
HAUG CASE
DEEPENSMan Held on Suspicion in Slaying of Girl in Thomasville Hotel Freed.

THOMASVILLE, Oct. 15.—An autopsy performed this afternoon at the instance of Pinkerton detectives revealed a bullet in the back of Dorothy Haug's head. Immediately after the autopsy the body was sent to Knoxville, Tenn., the Haug family home, where informant will take place probably Thursday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Haug, parents of the slain stenographer, and her younger sister, Marjorie, accompanied the body.

The detectives went on the case to-day. It was reported to-day that a negro had seen a young woman going to the postoffice about 4 o'clock Monday morning, and had passed her rapidly shortly before Miss Haug was slain.

Found dead at her hotel. This, however, has not been verified. The pistol found by the dead girl's side, it is said, was purchased by her while living in Bainbridge. It is a black .25-caliber Smith & Wesson. It is thought she had it in her grip when she came to Thomasville.

A post-mortem examination of the body of Miss Haug was made just before her funeral. This examination showed all vital organs of the slain girl in natural condition.

With the release of T. W. Duane, arrested Tuesday on suspicion, who connected the police that he had no connection with the murder, the slaying is as much a mystery today as two days ago.

Thus far there is absolutely no clue to the identity of the slayer, and the police and Chamber are at a loss to know which way to proceed to try some other plan for distributing the places.

Train Kills Boy on His Way to School;
Chum Sees Tragedy

Thomas Jackson Harris, an 11-year-old schoolboy living with his parents on the McDonough road near the Federal prison, was killed by a Southern passenger train Wednesday at Sevierville crossing.

The boy left home with his two brothers to go to the Lakewood Heights School. As a northbound freight train approached the crossing he ran ahead of his brothers and crossed the track. Standing on the track used by southbound trains, he was watching the freight pass and failed to see the passenger train which struck him.

The engineer made every effort to stop the train and after the accident took the body of the boy and backed the train to Rockland Station.

Conner Douglas investigated the accident. There being eye-witnesses, no inquest will be held.

PRISONERS CHAINED
IN DUNGEON, CHARGES
HAWTHORNE, FREED

Julian Hawthorne, the novelist, a free man Wednesday, after serving a term in the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary, told a startling story of his life as a convict, in which he called the Atlanta prison a "living hell," and said Warden Meyer was "unfit."

With all the emphasis at his command, Hawthorne arraigned conditions in the penitentiary as repulsive, cruel, and the equal of the most lurid descriptions in fiction.

"They are starving men in the name of economy," he said.

And Dr. W. J. Morton, of New York, his friend and fellow prisoner, nodded his head in corroboration.

"Prisoners are subjected to treatment that is nothing more than slow murder," said Dr. Morton, who is a practicing physician. "There is never enough to eat. The warden attempts to feed strong men on 9 cents a day, and when he succeeds he brings about it."

In the short time they remained in Atlanta after their release, Hawthorne and Dr. Morton talked much of conditions at the penitentiary, jumping from one detail to the other with a dramatic swiftness that made the story harrowing.

"Oh, yes, you hear of the clean cells in which the prisoners sleep," said Hawthorne. "But you never hear of the 'hole,' do you?" For the slightest fault, sometimes for breaking a plate, sometimes for a little more or less, a prisoner is sent to the "hole," a place under the main building for solitary confinement.

"There the heat is terrific at times, and the stench is bad. There some prisoners are chained by their wrists, and held thus with arms outstretched for hours. And sometimes confinement in the 'hole' is for days."

Scores Prison Fares.
"But the element of hell is in the feeding," he continued, his eyes flashing. "There has never a man gone into the prison but who undergoes a steady deterioration, maybe slow, but always sure. The doctor will tell you that."

He waved at Dr. Morton, who nodded acquiescence.

"Men are put in prison to be cared for," said Dr. Morton, "not to be subjected to slow murder."

The two accepted the invitation of a Georgian reporter ride about Atlanta. But the automobile, they forgot the city, and forgot to ask of this place after another. Hawthorne gripped the sides of his seat, and vowed vengeance on the system which he described.

"And the treatment is always that of beasts or criminals," he went on. "There are always the guards and the rifles, giving the public the impression that the men in prison are wild men, as desperadoes. And now and then men are clubbed for little nothing. There is a guard named Dean whom I have seen strike a prisoner over the head, and for no justifiable offense."

Escaped Hard Treatment.
The reporter wondered if Hawthorne himself had come in for such treatment, and asked him.

"No," said the novelist, "I have nothing at which I

HAUTIER THE Mexican's Riot Against Foreigners in Capital

GEN. HUERTA DESEITED BY AIDES

President Fears Assassination as Former Supporters Turn Against Him--Situation Critical.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 16.—The situation of Huerta here is becoming critical. A mob of students today started a riot by denouncing American and all other foreigners.

The mob was subdued in a brief encounter with the police, but further trouble is looked for to-night.

Huerta's supporters are deserting him and the division and his Cabinet are taking precautions to guard against assassination.

Women Held as Plotters.
A social woman has been arrested on a charge of attempting to poison General Huerta, Minister of the Interior.

Because of the proclamation of Huerta that he has taken over the duties of Congress four judges of the Supreme Court have resigned. It is reported that Huerta has ordered their arrest on a charge of sedition.

The forces of Federal troops held here for the retention of the Mexican capital was weakened today by President Huerta within twelve hours after representatives of six foreign nations had decided to report to their home governments that warships and a guard of 3,000 soldiers were necessary to assure the safety of foreigners.

Catholics Now Anxious.
Detailing the action taken by the Bishop of Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium and Norway, General Huerta ordered 1,000 soldiers to be sent to the north and aid in the attempt to capture Huerta.

The forces refused to comment on Huerta's action, but immediately notified their home governments of the resolution of the defense.

The situation became more tense today as a result of the arrest of General Huerta, a Catholic Deputy, on a charge of plotting against the Government.

When Huerta raided the Chamber of Deputies, his agents seized the Catholics, who had supported him, but Huerta's arrest was delayed until the latter.

GIRL SNAKES BY BURGLAR

Feigning Illness. She Arouses
Sleeping Roomers and Enables Police to Catch Daring Thief.

After robbing the rooms of two students at No. 18 Simpson street and shooting at R. C. Bruce, who discovered him in his home at No. 22 Simpson street, John Henry, a negro, 21 years old, No. 10-12 Central avenue, landed the nurse's dormitory of the Georgia Baptist Hospital, No. 10-12 Central avenue.

He was trapped through the presence of mind of Miss Nellie Ashbire, a nurse, after he had pulled half a dozen rounds and stolen watches and jewelry valued at several hundred dollars.

Miss Ashbire, when she was awakened by a noise and saw the figure of the burglar moving about the room, did not scream. She nudged her roommate and said that she was sick.

"No," replied Miss Ashbire. "I think I'll get up and get a drink."

The burglar, hearing the two young women talking, hid behind a trunk in a corner of the room of the Georgia Baptist Hospital, No. 10-12 Central avenue.

When the officers rode up to the hospital the burglar was seen two blocks away. He was walking leisurely toward the heart of the city. Jones and Watson started in pursuit, and the negro fled.

In addition to attempting to rob the room of Miss Ashbire, Henry snatched the rooms of five other nurses, stole several hundred dollars' worth of watches, rings and money.

Entered the dormitory by a back window and slipped into the room of Miss First Yearther. He took a gold watch from under her pillow while she slept. In the room of Miss Mary, he stole a diamond ring and a gold watch.

FRANK HEARING IS POSTPONED BY DOORSEY

The hearing of arguments on a new trial for Leo M. Frank has been postponed for Saturday until the following Wednesday, Solicitor General Doersey Thursday informed Nathan Arnold, of counsel for the defense, that he could not possibly be present for Saturday to go ahead with the arguments, but that he hoped to be ready by Wednesday.

The hearing originally was set for Tuesday 4, and was set forward to October 11 at the request of the Solicitor. When it became apparent that the defense would not be able to present the voluminous reasons submitted by the defense, the time set for the hearing was postponed to the 11th.

Due to the delay of the defense arguments from Volturno, containing many of the records and practically all of the transcription of testimony made at the trial, the Solicitor was unable to hold the conference Thursday morning with representatives of the defense for the purpose of conferring on the defense's reasons.

Doersey notified the defense that he would not be able to present the voluminous reasons submitted by the defense, the time set for the hearing was postponed to the 11th.

Physician, Freed of Poisoning Charge, Must Go to Court to Get Family Back.

MILNER, Oct. 16.—Faced with all suspicion of having caused the death of his wife, Dr. Cary Barron, the prominent young physician whose arrest was the sensation of three counties, is expected soon to begin a vigorous fight to regain possession of his three children, who were taken from him when he was imprisoned, and are now in the hands of relatives of their mother.

Two of the children—Dorothy, aged 2, and Debia, aged 4—are at the home of W. R. Mann, Mrs. Barron's father, and Pearl, aged 3, is at the home of her mother.

T. M. Galloway, 1200 Ave. of Mrs. Barron, stated today that, although Dr. Barron has been freed of the charge of killing his wife, they do not regard him as a fit person to care for his children, and that he will not be allowed to have them.

"The children will remain where they are, with the relatives of their mother," one of Mrs. Barron's relatives said. "They will be taken care of and educated, and will do the best we can to take the place of their mother. Dr. Barron will not be allowed to have them unless he arranges the matter into court and is forced to give them up."

Just how the children will be apportioned out among the relatives of the dead woman is not yet known.

It is understood, however, that all of the children will be taken to the home of Mr. Mann, their grandfather, and that he will take care of them.

Dr. Barron would make no statement regarding the case, but he is expected to appear in court for the children.

It is possible that Dr. Barron will be forced to give up the children to the relatives of his dead wife, but it is not yet known.

SLAYING THEORY STILL HELD IN HAUG CASE

THOMASVILLE, Oct. 16.—Despite the finding of a bullet in the brain of Miss Dorothy Haug at the autopsy held yesterday afternoon, there are many people who still believe that the girl was slain, there being many peculiar features of the case that will be explained before the matter closes in the autumn.

The coroner's jury met again this afternoon.

Among those who cling to the belief that Miss Haug was murdered is J. P. Brown, the Philanthropist, who has been employed by the Commonwealth of Thomas County to make a thorough investigation of the case.

Without allowing his intentions to become known, Brown quietly left the city this morning for Gainesville, for the purpose of making more regarding the possible suicide of Miss Haug in that city.

Probe Shifts to Gainesville.
Brown is not satisfied that the evidence from which the bullet found in the dead girl's brain was fired, that he will investigate the report that she purchased a weapon while living in Gainesville.

It now appears that some of the statements made by the girl's mother concerning the condition of Miss Haug's body when found in her room at the Southern Hotel, were either misunderstood or that the mother was misled by the tragedy to make up a story.

Reports that the girl was found in a room at the Southern Hotel, and that she was found with a bullet in her head, are not yet confirmed.

It is not yet known whether the girl was found in a room at the Southern Hotel, and that she was found with a bullet in her head, are not yet confirmed.

MOVED FOR THOROUGH INQUIRY, HE SAYS

Washington Stirred Deeply by Expose of Conditions in Atlanta Federal Prison.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Julian Hawthorne's sensational disclosures of conditions in the Atlanta Federal Prison, published exclusively in The Atlanta Georgian, has stirred the Department of Justice as in other scandals has done for years.

Wardon W. H. Moyer, from Indianapolis, where he had just been honored in convention by the presidents of the American Prison Association, wired to Attorney General McInnes an epitome of the charges contained in The Georgian interview with Hawthorne and put the matter of an investigation directly up to the Department of Justice.

Coming from the distinguished author and his companion, Dr. Morton, the revelations were given a credence that they would not have obtained from other sources.

Talks today was of an immediate investigation and official action was expected momentarily.

The amazing description of conditions caused all the more astonishment from the fact that the prison in Atlanta had been regarded as a model institution in every respect and had been cited as an example of what efficient administration and humane treatment of prisoners will accomplish.

Wardon Moyer, who has been in the department attending the annual convention of the American Prison Association, wired a sweeping denial to The Georgian as soon as he learned the nature of the charges against his administration.

"I will welcome any investigation authorized," he telegraphed, "and I know that absolutely no truth in the charges will be found."

Telegrams reciting the sensational charges made by Hawthorne and Morton have been sent to the Attorney General with a request for the most searching investigation possible to the end that the exact truth be ascertained and given the greatest publicity.

Close on the heels of the bitter criticisms uttered by Hawthorne and Morton, another sensation was sprung by Congressman William Schley Howard of the Fifth Georgia District, who declared that he will demand an immediate investigation by the proper authorities and that he was going to make a personal inspection of the prison as soon as Warden Moyer returned.

The Georgia Congressman asserted that he was aware of the truth of the statements of Hawthorne and Morton and that the conditions described constituted a shame to the Federal Government and certain of its officers.

Howard declared that he will demand an immediate investigation by the proper authorities and that he was going to make a personal inspection of the prison as soon as Warden Moyer returned.

Eight Articles Sufficient to Remove Executive.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 15.—Governor William Sulzer was convicted this afternoon by the court of impeachment, consisting of the State Senate and judges of the Court of Appeals.

The court voted first on article one of the impeachment and found the governor guilty of making a false report of his campaign fund to the Secretary of State. Conviction on only one count is necessary for the Governor's removal from office. The final vote was 39 to 18.

The vote was the same on article two.

The court then reached a decision as to what its verdict would be in executive session that had lasted all day Wednesday and this morning, but the final session this afternoon was opened to the public. Each member as he voted was given an opportunity to explain the reason for his ballot. This made the matter of reaching the trial a long-drawn-out affair.

Article 1 of the impeachment act, which charges that Sulzer made a false and fraudulent report concerning campaign contributions to the Secretary of State, was taken up first.

FIRST BELIEF OF SLAYING REVERSED

Detective Finds Dead Girl Purchased Pistol in Bainbridge.
Coroner's Inquest Ends.

THOMASVILLE, Oct. 15.—"Suicide of herself" was the verdict of the Coroner's jury in the case of Dorothy Haug at a re-convened hearing this afternoon.

That the jury would reverse its verdict of "murdered by an unknown party" and render a verdict of suicide, was expected this afternoon, before the jury re-convened when Detective Peace of the Pinkerton agency returned from Bainbridge. While there he established the sale of a pistol to the dead girl and became satisfied that, despite some peculiar circumstances connected with the case, there was not enough evidence to warrant a verdict other than of suicide.

It was upon the report of Dr. T. M. McIntosh who performed the autopsy that the Coroner's jury rendered its original verdict that the girl was murdered. His opinion that the appearance of the body indicated that Miss Haug had been struck in the head with a blunt instrument was accepted by the jury, who rendered a verdict in accordance with his testimony.

Peace Found Bullet.
To Detective Peace it was the finding of the bullet which proved the girl's death. It became known today and the police are investigating. One man is said to have said: "The hand of vengeance will fall upon you if you allow Harry Thaw to be extruded."

ABSENTEE OF RING POLITICIANS O'Neal and Ring Politicians Back of Rival's Candidacy.

Congressman Richard P. Hoban, of Alabama, was in Atlanta last night Thursday to eat lunch and fire a mighty broadside at Congressman Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, emphasizing on his charges that the latter was a "tool of Wall Street."

"The Senatorial fight in Alabama represents not only a State struggle, but a national battle as well," opened up the fighting Congressman to a reporter for The Georgian.

"On the one side, marshaled by Underwood, are the conservatives, reactionary politicians, the corporations and liquor interests. On the other are the liberal progressive, constructive and temperance and prohibition forces."

The present administration of Alabama is, indeed, a stretch in the minds of the good people of that State," the Congressman ruffled what little hair was left on his head.

The Governor of Alabama has been the prime mover in shaping up the campaign for the reactionary liquor and the corporations in conference with other politicians of the same stripe as his appointed Congressman Clayton in the vast majority of the counties of Alabama, expecting that he would strengthen in power and be the standard bearer for a long term. But he was a great disappointment and developed as a political straw, and even his credentials were not accepted in the United States Senate.

The last card was played and Underwood was drawn into the fight. "Since the discussion on the floor of the House last Monday I gave you ten minutes to the charges against Underwood, and he had a whole hour for his point defense, going far ahead from the charges and taking up questions of years ago. With this new material injected into the discussion, without any chance for a rejoinder on my part, I suggested to Mr. Underwood that we meet in Alabama and have joint discussions in regular form. "In a fit of semi-rage he announced in his speech that he did not intend to go into the 'dirty politics' of Alabama. His effort then and the effort of his friends and friendly newspapers is still to pretend that I was 'slandering' him when I simply stated the sworn testimony of the Senate committee investigating the campaign contributions, which showed that Underwood was a Wall street dummy."

"On the door of the House Monday afternoon at 10:15, three men came in to see my campaign headquarters three times, and yet claimed that they knew nothing about the contributions. Didn't Look for Evidence."

"He didn't seem to be sufficiently curious to find out where the money was coming from when one minute's glance at the books could have told him. It is a poor general who doesn't know where his ammunition is coming from."

He also refuted Underwood's action in defeating the Senate amendment of the tariff bill placing $1.10 duty per gallon on brandy and strengthening wheat, thus making a gift of seven and a quarter million dollars to the liquor men, and taking that amount

DORSEY BACK WITH NEW AFFIDAVITS; MORE DELAY IN APPEAL FIGHT LIKELY

Solicitor General Dorsey entered at once into the fight to prevent a new trial for Leo M. Frank on his return to Atlanta Wednesday morning. He came to this city to complete his preparation for the argument set for hearing next Saturday before Judge L. R. Ross. For a week and a half he had been working almost constantly on the case in Valdosta, where he went with his associate, A. E. Stephens, to avoid parties to conduct their own, and every attention attracted by the case. The large number of affidavits submitted by the defense, and the work of the Solicitor General, had been completed and ready for presentation to the trial judge. The Solicitor General was expected to suggest certain changes in the bill of exceptions. He will require more time for these changes. It is expected that the Solicitor General also has set to follow up several lines of the defense. The bill of exceptions of the defense is expected to be submitted to the trial judge of Judge Ross and approved, but he will still be expected to make some changes in the bill of exceptions. HOWARD TO PUSH PROBE OF U. S. PENITENTIARY

Congressman Declares He Knows Many of Charges Made by Hawthorne Are True.

Howard, in convention by the president of the American Prison Association, wired to Attorney General Clegg, an epitome of the charges contained in "The Georgian" review with Hawthorne and put the matter of an investigation directly up to the Department of Justice.

Coming from the distinguished attorney and his companion, Dr. Morton, the revelations were given a credence which they would not have obtained from other prisoners. Talk today was of an immediate investigation. Official action was expected immediately.

The amazing description of conditions caused all the more astonished from the fact that the prison in Atlanta had been regarded as a model institution in every respect and as an example of what efficient administration and humane treatment of prisoners will accomplish.

Moyer Sends Denial to The Georgian.

Garden Moyer, who has been in Indianapolis attending the annual convention of the American Prison Association, wired a sweeping denial to "The Georgian" as soon as he learned the nature of the charges against his institution.

"I will welcome any investigation," he telegraphed. "I am sure that absolutely no truth in the charges will be found."

Howard to Demand Probe.

Howard, on the heels of the bitter denials uttered by Hawthorne and Moyer, another denunciation was sprung on the Georgia prison. William J. DeLoach, of the Fifth Georgia, who declared that he will demand an immediate investigation by the proper authorities and that he will make a personal inspection of the prison as soon as Warden Hawthorne is located.

The Georgia Congressman asserted that he was aware of the truth of the statements of Hawthorne and Moyer and that the conditions described and constituted a disgrace to the Federal Government and certain of the men in charge of the institution.

"I am not prepared to say exactly what would be the charges of Hawthorne and Moyer," said Congressman DeLoach. "I do know that the conditions described are disgraceful and that I am not prepared to say exactly what would be the charges of Hawthorne and Moyer."

Adamson Asks U. S. To Pay Road Rental

The bill provides for the appropriation of $200,000 a year and the construction and maintenance of a permanent channel four feet deep.

FUNDS ASKED TO ENFORCE SMOKE ORDINANCE

Chairman of Commission Wants Two Inspectors Now and One Inspector in April.

Increased efforts to abate Atlanta's smoke nuisance are promised for the near future by R. M. Harwell, chairman of the Smoke Commission.

"The Georgian's editorial on Wednesday came pretty near doing us in," he said Thursday.

"We have accomplished a good deal, but not near enough. It is hardly practical to start a new law at this season with the cold weather ahead of us, but we need a more rigid law to go into effect April 1, and I believe Council will pass it."

"What we do need immediately is more money to carry on the work of the department. We are going to make an aggressive fight for it when the new budget is made up in January. Such publicity as the Georgian has been giving the fight against smoke has convinced the people that the nuisance can be abated. The Smoke Commission has issued a policy to force abatement, but only need sufficient money to carry it out."

"If they will give us enough money to hire two more inspectors, we will get this town of the smoke nuisance within six months. If they'll give us enough to buy new testing equipment, we'll see that the smoke gets better every day."

Banquet for Winners In Sunday League

A banquet will be given to the winners of the Sunday League baseball championship Thursday night at the Hotel Astor, by the Atlanta Athletic Club. The winners are members of the postmaster's Sunday school class.

Prize for P. O. Clerk Who Improves Most

Postmaster Jones Thursday announced he would give a gold medal to the clerk in the city mail department whose work showed the greatest improvement in every respect during the year.

Just before Christmas an examination will be held to determine the winner. There are twenty clerks in this department.

Court to Continue Till Frank Hearing

The criminal division of the City Court, presided over by Judge Calhoun, will continue its session this week, pending hearing of the motion for a new trial for Leo M. Frank, accused in the murder of Mary Phagan.

The midweek court is usually held on Wednesday. The court will meet next week to formulate plans for the approaching municipal primary.

GRADING IS ONLY GIVEN HALT BY INJUNCTION

Officials Determined to Complete Whitehall Work, But There Is Much Real Opposition.

City and county officials were confident Thursday that the injunction against the Whitehall street repaving project would amount to nothing more than needless and very annoying delay. While the weather is so favorable they were anxious to finish the project before the rush of Christmas shopping.

"We intended to put 100 additional men on the work to finish it as soon as possible," said Philip Smith, chairman of the city's construction department. "The work is being done as fast as possible."

The officials have no fear that the injunction will cause any loss of business. John S. McDaniel, a grocer in the city, said he had no objection to the work being done. He said he had no objection to the work being done.

In spite of the fact that many business men along Whitehall street seemed to favor a speedy termination of the work now that it has been started, there are unquestionably many who are opposed to it. Some of the business men who claim it will mean the loss of business are those who have to do with the work.

PREPARING FOR PRIMARY.

WATKINS, Oct. 16.—A. J. Morton has been elected chairman of the new Democratic executive committee of Waycross and Harry M. Wilson secretary. The committee will meet next week to formulate plans for the approaching municipal primary.

Presbytery to Meet Next in Birmingham

ANNUAL MEETING of the Alabama Presbytery, which has been in session at the Hotel Astor, will adjourn this afternoon to meet at Birmingham.

A plan for $4,000 for industrial education at the Tallapoosa (Tallahassee) by the Rev. George Longmire, of the Tallapoosa, was the feature of the meeting.

HELD FOR CHECK FRAUD.

BRIDGES, N. C., Oct. 16.—W. T. Bridges, a prominent traveling man, was arrested here today charged with passing a fraudulent check on an Atlanta merchant. An order on that place will come for the meeting.

He stated that nothing could be done to stop it. "I already have lost our company about $2,000, and we will have to spend much more after the work is finished, remodeling our front. This money goes toward finishing proper. I am sure that the work has been started, though I hope that they hurry and complete it."

PLAYERS SUFFER FROM INJURIES

ATHENS, GA., Oct. 18.—It was necessary to call the roll at practice yesterday afternoon to see how many Red and Black players are really on the hospital list. It was found that no less than 25 players can be accounted for. Three from the game Saturday and three from the game Sunday were put out of commission in the aftermath of last week.

Bill Carey, the leading back, who was filling to perfection the hole left by the fall of Brown, was on the list with his shoulder in a plaster cast and his arm in a sling. He will be several weeks before he gets in a uniform again. "Primo" is still in the hospital, but will probably get into Saturday's game against Alabama. McCann and the other backs were all hurt in various ways, but none of them were hurt in a way that would keep them out of the game.

THOMPSON, who was the only player left off by Carey and "Primo" in the game Saturday, was hurt in the game Sunday. He was hurt in the game Sunday, but he is not hurt in a way that would keep him out of the game.

HARDY, a valuable line player, was hurt in the game Saturday. He was hurt in the game Saturday, but he is not hurt in a way that would keep him out of the game.

Tech Coach Discusses "On-side Kick"—Reviews Games of Last Week
HEISMAN SEES FEW CHANGES IN FOOTBALL STYLE

By J. W. Heisman.
VERY few football fans vaguely wonder what innovations the season's new rules will bring out in the playing of the game. Every fall for the past twenty years the rule book has shown more or less changes, but it has not been necessary to change the game in any way that would change the game in any way that would change the game.

While it is a perfectly legal to attempt to make a kick, it is not a perfectly legal to attempt to make a kick. It is not a perfectly legal to attempt to make a kick. It is not a perfectly legal to attempt to make a kick.

SUFFRAGETTES ASSAIL ROYALTY IN WEDDING OF PRINCE OF CONNAUGHT

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian, LONDON, Oct. 15.—In the presence of two reigning kings, George of England and Haakon of Norway, and their wives, as well as many other states, including members of royal families, diplomats and officers of state, Alexandra, Duchess of York, was married to Prince Arthur of Connaught in the Chapel Royal of St. James Palace at noon today.

The event, which was the first royal wedding in the land since 1901, when Princess Margaret of Connaught married the Duke of Gloucester, was a gala affair, and the Duchess of York was crowned in the presence of the king and queen.

On account of the threat of militant suffragettes to break up the nuptials, a solid line of police and soldiers was drawn about the palace and along the main routes traversed by the guests.

Clings to Royal Carriage

One suffragette appeared on the scene to make good the threat, carrying a bundle of suffragette flags. She was taken into the carriage and was held there until the king and queen had departed. She was then released and was taken to the hospital.

SEARCHING SIDELIGHTS ON POLITICS IN GEORGIA

By JAMES B. NEVIN.

Nothing is more interesting than a hearing for clemency before Governor McSpadden.

The Governor generally hears the petitioners in the big reception room, where there is plenty of space for the public use, and all such hearings usually are exhaustive.

The Governor asks questions freely, particularly upon such points raised as seem more directly to affect the case in hand. It is very easy to follow the Executive trend of mind from the questions he asks, notwithstanding the fact that he rarely venturés anything like a conclusion during the progress of hearing.

There were very few who heard the McSpadden hearings, for instance, who did not realize fully that the most likely outcome of that petition would be commutation to life imprisonment. The fact that a majority of the Board members recommended a full and free pardon for Governor Brown, while given to making a few questions, perhaps to do most of the talking after the former Governor had concluded a hearing, it usually was a surprise as to what direct or indirect effect the petition.

It is not as with Governor Smith. He seems to be unable, even if it is within the power of the Board, to write an inquiry as to the merits of the petitioners in the case of Governor Brown. He seems to be more concerned with the fact that he has heard the petition, and he seems to be more concerned with the fact that he has heard the petition, and he seems to be more concerned with the fact that he has heard the petition.

Now that the winter of the mortal pest is upon us, it is a good idea to have a good supply of Dr. White's Eucalypti Extract on hand. It is a good idea to have a good supply of Dr. White's Eucalypti Extract on hand. It is a good idea to have a good supply of Dr. White's Eucalypti Extract on hand.

DEMANDS OF U. S. TO BE HEEDED BY HUERTA

Dictator's Defiance Broken, According to Note by Moheno, Seizing Mexican Press.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 15.—For the purpose of protesting against the declaration of the Mexican Congress and the dictatorship assumed by Provisional President Huerta, the Spanish Minister today called a conference of all foreign representatives in the capital.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian, MEXICO CITY, Oct. 15.—(Special) Huerta will back down in his attitude of defiance toward the United States. This was assured today when Señor Moheno, Minister of Foreign Relations, issued the following statement:

"The press of the capital interpreted erroneously some of the statements made yesterday regarding the note from the United States. The note was not a demand, but a request. The government of the Republic has received from the American State Department, through the excellency, the declaration, two messages which are going to be answered by the government and which in no way modify the status quo of our relations with the neighboring republic of the North."

"The underslip—of pink charmeuse, is draped at the side. It is a devoted departure from anything the season has brought out, and no one will deny a charming and graceful departure; indeed the creation of an artist. You are invited to see it."

CHAMBERLIN-JOHNSON-DuBOISE CO. ATLANTA NEW YORK PARIS

Thursday We Will Show for the First Time in Atlanta a Copy of M. Paul Poirer's 1913 Masterpiece The "Minaret" Gown

It is exhibited in a big crystal case in the ready-to-wear section, second floor. Paul Poirer started even Paris very recently when he exploited the "Minaret" gown. It is a season of things Oriental, he says, and this is his interpretation of Orientalism. Quite naturally it was inspired by the country typically Oriental—Persia.

This copy that Atlanta folk may see is worked out in white chintilly lace and pink charmeuse. The "Minaret" or bodice is of the chintilly lace with a silver tinsel braid forming suspender effect front and back, extending below waist line, ending in a beaded tassel. The double tunic is of the lace, finished around the bottom with shirred silk net, very full, suggesting the bustle effect; finished at front with a big red rose, at the back with a fluffy silk net bow.

The underslip—of pink charmeuse, is draped at the side. It is a devoted departure from anything the season has brought out, and no one will deny a charming and graceful departure; indeed the creation of an artist. You are invited to see it.

Among the New Arrivals Are Many Velvet and Velour Suits

The reason is that, as the makers would say, "velvets and velours are strong."

Which is their way of saying that Paris has spoken in the soft tones of velvets and velours.

It is remarkable to note how these skillful men have used rich pile fabrics.

We have been accustomed, in former seasons, to thinking of them as rather unwieldy and stiff.

Just the reverse is true now.

Velvets and velours are supple, lending themselves to the most graceful tailoring and to the vogue that says things must drape and unfold and cling.

The result is—exquisite tailored suits!

There are many models to choose from—in many shades.

You may be a cutaway, or it may be a smart, short coat, simulating a cutaway or with a girlish back. It may have a little vestee—most of them have—of a Dresden silk or an Oriental velour—and it will probably have a bit of fur about it—a "chocker" collar or cuffs of skunk.

And still—

Velvet and velour suits are but one phase of the suit question as it is seen and answered here.

There are those sturdy chevrons and mixtures and serges, smart, trim, tailored to perfection, with style in every line and service in every stitch.

The variety inspires confidence.

It makes choosing easy.

It rubs us—even were we so inclined—of the necessity of urging customers one way or the other. You may have spread before you suit after suit until you light upon the one you want.

Rather satisfactory to have such a suit store to depend on, isn't it?

Common Sense Makes a Good Voter

INFORMATION IS AT LEAST AS IMPORTANT AS EDUCATION, AND THE SO-CALLED "IGNORANT VOTE" IS THE MOST VALUABLE VOTE.

Copyright, 1922, by The Georgia Company

Mr. Sunshine, who manufactures pressing and ironing appliances, sends in his "solution of a problem," as follows:

"Dear Sir: The solution of the woman's suffrage question can be summed up by passing a law that all persons, male or female, desiring to vote and having reached the voting age, shall pass an examination as to their education and intelligence; that those who can pass that examination shall be permitted to vote, others not."

That sounds very nice, but it is all wrong.

What we need is earnest men and women with common sense, character, honesty, devotion to their children, belief in republican government, willingness to work.

Your plan to keep men and women away from the polls if they lack education would be a bad thing—almost as bad as the stupid and criminal plan which is constantly proposed at Washington to keep out of our country immigrants that lack education of a bookish kind.

It isn't education—book knowledge—or a university degree that makes the good voter.

What the country needs is honesty, earnestness, and especially that kind of common sense THAT REFUSES TO BE FOOLED BY FAIR PROMISE OR TO IGNORE BROKEN PLEDGES OF THE PAST.

The test of a woman's voting or a man's voting should not be EDUCATION, for who is to say what really IS education?

The chimpanzee who can eat with a napkin around his neck is educated compared to the blue-nosed manqué, who can't learn anything.

The high school boy is "educated." If you choose to say so, compared with the successful farmer who never studied algebra. But which of the two do you think is really "educated"?

The man whom Mr. Sunshine might consider educated would seem a pitiful ignoramus to Mr. Oliver Lodge or to Nicholson of the Chicago University or a thousand others.

There is no test of education.

But there is a test of human decency. Any woman who is self-respecting and takes care of her children, any man willing to work for his living, honest and a believer in our government, is a good citizen—AND ALL GOOD CITIZENS, MALE OR FEMALE, SHOULD VOTE.

The so-called ignorant vote is really the most important and valuable vote, for it is the vote that REFUSES TO ACCEPT EXCUSES.

A woman need not be "educated" in order to know that the streets are dirty, playgrounds neglected, willing workmen out of work, train prices high and life painful.

We don't give the vote to men and women in order that they may vote in favor of Mothers-as-against-Besummarbals or in favor of Briess-as-against-Bababals.

We give people the vote in order that they may insist on efficient government, honest government, clean streets, train regulation, prosperous times.

If this newspaper had to take the vote away from the most highly educated men and women of the country or from the great mass of so-called "uneducated" men and women of the country, it would take the vote very promptly from the educated. For they DO NOT NEED THE VOTE AS MUCH AS THE UNEDUCATED NEED IT.

And the educated, on the whole, do not vote as consistently or as intelligently as the uneducated.

It is not the educated gentleman with twenty thousand a year who compels public officers to reduce the price of gas or clean the streets in the poor quarter or provide the children with playgrounds. The "ignorant" men and women who live in the poor quarter and who create the children are the voters that get the work done.

They are the important voters.

That is why it is preposterous and stupid to talk of an educational test for immigrants and equally preposterous to talk of an educational test for voters.

Letters From the Readers of The Georgian

A STENOGRAPHER'S PAIN.

Editor The Georgian:

I heard the other day of a girl who complained that she was offered only 15 a week to be stenographer in a downtown office. She demanded $18. I am a stenographer with five years' experience, and I would not work for less than $18 a week. As a matter of fact, I am getting $20, and my employer evidently thinks I am worth it because he voluntarily raises my pay several months ago. I know some girls that pass as stenographers who, to my mind, are not worth $15 a week. They are careless, take no interest in their work or their employer's business, and really do more than help to keep salaries down.

STENOGRAPHER.

COUGHING ANNOYANCES.

Editor The Georgian:

Some time ago I read an editorial in The Georgian in which you commented upon people coughing. This morning, while running a business in a car, I was subjected to an annoying experience. I sat next to a man who coughed incessantly. I would have been angry for him but for the fact that nearly every time he coughed he did so right in my face. He didn't get back like an ill-bred person, yet his actions were those of a man who was devoid of the finer instincts. Why are people so unrefined in public places?

A GIRL'S PROTEST.

Editor The Georgian:

The other day I read an advertisement of a stenographer wanted, and called to apply for the position. I was asked if I had had five years' experience. I have been a stenographer for seven years. I was informed that the pay would be $15 a week. What do you think of it? I told the man I could not support myself on that sum. He said it was all he had ever paid.

COUGHLIN.

HE SAVES EDITORIALS.

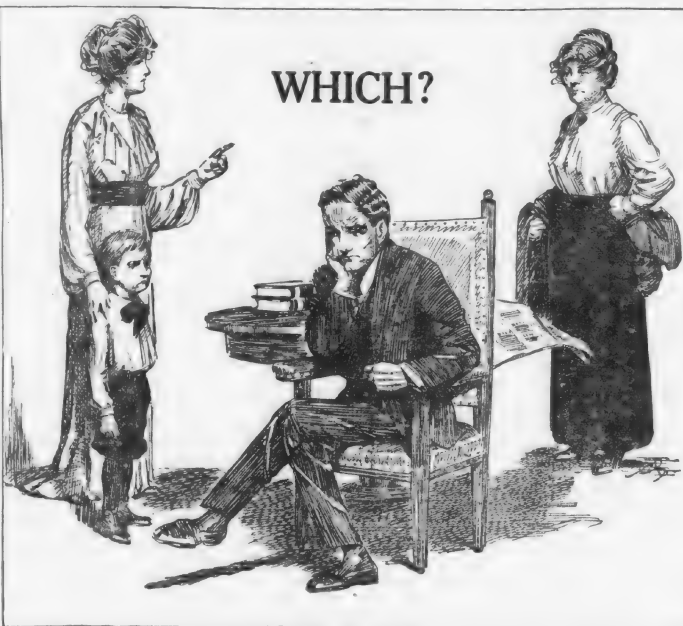

Editor The Georgian:

For the last year I have been so very interested in your editorials that I have saved many of them. They are, in my opinion, more instructive and more pertinent than the editorial that has been published. I would have been very glad to see them in your paper.

DEMONS OF THE SEA

By REV. THOMAS B. GREGORY.

TWO hundred and fifteen years ago, on September 3, 1672, the Treaty of Ryewick awarded the death sentence to the "Demons of the Sea."

The famous "buccaners" began their high-handed work soon after the Spaniards had made their settlements in America. They were largely Dutch and English, and the one strong to be between them in being their hostility to the Spaniards. To rob and kill the Spaniards was their chief aim. In the area of these sea rovers human life had but little sacredness, especially if it happened to be Spanish human life. Spain, in permitting the establishment of the internal institution known as the Inquisition, had outlawed humanity, and large for that reason Dutch and English buccaners, outlawed Spain. It was a magnificent instance of the "demons" of the sea.

With headquarters on the coast of St. Domingo, they formed the Caribbean Sea for the centuries.

By the black flag and showing no mercy to the subjects of Spain who happened to cross their path, they a galleon loaded with the silver and gold of Mexico and Peru passed into their hands, and many a gallant crew walked the plank into the waters of the Spanish Main.

Wives, Mothers-in-Law, A Word to You!

Why Do Women Who Love a Man the Most Torture Him with Their Petty Jealous Warfare Until They Force Him to Choose Between Them?

By DOROTHY DIX.

LOOK long at this picture, ladies. Study it well. Note the two angry women who stand facing each other, bitterness and hatred in their hearts, cruel words upon their lips, and then take heed of the forlorn, helpless, pathetic figure of the man between them.

It is a picture to make the understanding weep, and the pity of it is that it is one that so many, many men have only to shut their eyes to see reproduced in their own homes, for it is the picture of the wrangling in-laws that turn so many homes that should be happy into dungeons of purgatory.

In this picture the artist has seized upon the moment to which the long-drawn-out quarrel between a mother-in-law and a daughter-in-law have come to a crisis, and the wife has told her husband that he must choose between her and his mother, and that one of the other of them goes out of the door.

How shall a man decide? He loves his wife dearly. She is the one woman in all the world he picked out to be his companion through life. He knows that she loves him. She has been good, and faithful, and loyal to him. She is the mother of his children, and he is bound to her by all the ties that can unite a man to a woman. He is a domestic man, fond of his home, finding his greatest interest in it. A thousand voices bid him choose his wife if he must decide between the two women.

But is this the case? Far from it. His wife is filled with surging jealousy of mother-in-law, because her husband still loves the mother who bore him. Mother is green-eyed when she thinks of daughter-in-law, because her son picked her out for a wife. And they nag each other, and harp on each other's faults, and interfere with each other, and hate each other worse than poison.

And both forget, in their feud, the man who loves them both, and who is their helpless victim.

Of course no one will contend that it is easy for a daughter-in-law and a mother-in-law to get along comfortably together. They may be utterly unaccountable in disposition, and everybody has their faults and foibles.

Admittedly nearly all old people are cranky and bossy. Undoubtedly all young women think that they are bossy in particular.

Both Have the Best Reasons for Loving Each Other.

It would seem that if a young woman had one spark of generosity in her nature, and if she really loved the man she married, she would feel that of all women on earth, next to her own mother, the closest to her was the woman who had raised up for her a good husband. It would seem that she would appreciate all that that other woman had gone through to bring up a splendid man for her, and that she could not do enough for her mother.

There Is His Mother, the Being Most Sacred in His Eyes.

But there is his mother—his old mother—the being above all others sacred in his eyes; the one who went down into the Valley of the Shadow to bring him into life; the one who nursed him through his helpless infancy; who has shared his every sleep through life, and whose sacrifices for him have been uncounted.

He remembers the long nights she sat patiently by his sick bed; the times she went shabby that he might have new clothes to look as well as his schoolmates; the striving and self-denial by which she put him through college.

All that he is of good, all that he ever hopes to be, he owes to his mother, and he never looks at her workworn old hands without wanting to go down on his knees and kiss them in gratitude. And now his wife demands that he shall repay that debt by turning the old woman out of his house.

How can he decide against his mother? Wife and mother! These are the two women in the world the man loves best, the ones to whom he has most tried to do his duty, and between them they are crucifying him. They tear his very soul in twain. They say his happiness, and he is helpless.

It is a tragic situation, grotesquely tragic, because both women love the man they torture. They would do anything else on earth for him except to sink their petty spite and jealousy and try to get along together.

They would make any sacrifice for him except to give up to the pleasure of nagging at each other, and so the poor man is ground between the upper and nether millstones of his wife and his mother.

There is no place for him.

They Can Get Along Harmoniously if They Wish It.

But while this is true, it is also true that any mother-in-law and daughter-in-law can get along harmoniously if they want to do so, and try to make friends of each other instead of enemies, and that they can slash these differences for the sake of the man they love, if they love him unselfishly.

For in her heart every wife knows that her husband cannot be happy if she separates him from his mother, and every mother knows that she is wrecking her son's life if she parts him from his wife, or does anything to kill his love for his wife.

This is the lesson of this picture, ladies. Study it well. Look with seeing eyes at the tragic figure of the unfortunate man, forced to choose between wife and mother, and never give to your son or his wife that dread nightmare.

In-Shoots

Matrimony has frequently proved to be a good cure for egotism.

It seems so well disguised at times that we never discover them at all.

Most of us would about as soon be the prisoner as the prison warden.
